

In Memoriam: Stephen Chetwood (a65-70)

After leaving Felsted, Stephen signed up as a private in the Royal Corps of Transport from where he successfully transferred to RMA Sandhurst and enjoyed life as an officer in the Royal Engineers, allowing him to indulge in his passion for sport, in which he excelled. He played on the left wing for Combined Services with a great “back-stick” weapon.

After 13 years he left the Army and joined John Lewis where he happily and successfully worked as a general manager at large stores in Norwich, Nottingham and latterly Cheadle Hulme, Manchester, which he was instrumental in setting up.

He will be remembered by many as one of the Gepps House “super” year of outstanding sportsmen. Naturally gifted, Stephen had tremendous hand/eye coordination and excelled in all ball sports.

He leaves behind his wife, Kath, two sons Matthew and James who are a great credit to them and a little granddaughter Harriet.

A happy chap, Stephen was always a “ glass half full” character. Much missed.
